Andy_Liang.com

Andy_Liang.com is going to be my personal portfolio that contains my personal information about careers and life that will be available to view online publicly.

Andy_Liang.com is a webpage that I want to develop to be my personal portfolio. The webpage will include my personal life and professional career such as my hobbies, interests, fun things I do in life, my academic career, schools, projects, jobs (not yet), etc. The website is going to be open publicly so everyone can view what's about me. The main goal for developing this webpage is for career needs like resume or business needs, and making friends if anyone has similar interests to me.
